

Super Learning

Soak Up Information Like a Sponge

mindpersuasion.com

Instructions

Listen with headphones and eyes closed. Visualize anything related to learning quickly and easily. Visualize information being streamed directly into your brain. See reality as a lattice like structure that only you can see. See other people looking at complicated things with confused looks, while you easily comprehend everything and explain it to others.

Tips for Success

Keep a daily journal and record any objective evidence that you are learning more quickly and easily.
